However do you soothe an upset new born?
Struggle, writhe, clench, squirm.
You are fed, clean, and dry. Why do you cry?
Yes, life out here is shiny and new. Nonexample for you.
Pat, rock, snuggle, cuddle, sway. To no avail.
Ah, but wily Grandpa has a trick.
Come little one, rest tummy to tummy, head to heart.
Slowly, ever so slowly, all quiets. Ah, she is fast asleep.
But wait, so is Grandpa.
However do you soothe an upset new born?
You can’t, she soothes you.
